It was at the BIEL Center, in the heart of Beirut, that Beirut MP Michel Pharaon hosted an iftar for the people of the capital's Ashrafieh, Rmeil and Saifi neighborhoods.

On hand were Minister Jean Oghassabian, representing the Prime Minister-designate Saad Hariri, MPs Nadim Gemayel and Serge Toursarkissian, Sheikh Khaldoune Areimet, representing the mufti of the Republic, Sheikh Mohammad Rashid Kabbani; the Archimandrite Antoine Nasr, representing the Greek Catholic bishop of Beirut and

Jbeil; the acting governor of Beirut, Nassif Kalloush; and a large number of notables from the political, social, security and economic spheres, as well as media representatives. ■
